

Waste Management Consulting, Training & Auditing

Entech provides a range of practical waste management consulting and auditing services to private industry and the government sectors. These services are focused on providing the best outcomes for our clients from a financial, environmental and regulatory perspective. Most notably, these services are aimed to deliver continual improvement as required under ISO14001 Environmental Management Systems.

The following list of services are provided:

- Waste and by-product management auditing
- Waste and by-product analyses and classification
- Re-classification of wastes into products
- Development of by-product reuse markets
- Preparation of total waste management (TWM®) tenders and contracts
- Implementation of cleaner production initiatives
- Waste regulatory auditing
- Development of waste tracking systems
- Waste data collection, interpretation and reporting
- Development of waste management and minimisation plans
- Waste management training by Certificate IV Workplace trainers
- Due diligence reporting
- Basel Convention hazardous waste export classification
- Waste management benchmarking
- Trade waste management